not a narrative history but a range of views on the communist international also called Comintern and the Third International founded by the Soviet government in March 1919 and dissolved in May 1943. Authors of the 18 papers from a symposium in July 1995 in Exeter, England, were asked to provide new insights based on the recent availability of the Comintern archive in Moscow. They look at the view from the Soviet center, European parties, and parties in the Americas and Asia. Unfortunately, none considers the relationship of the Australian Communist Party to the International, about which much has been written. Distributed in the US by St Martin's Press. The first book in English on the artist Maruja Mallo and the Spanish avant-garde examines the life and art of a woman sidelined by history and her male counterparts out of the misogyny and political conflict of interwar Madrid. Mallo emerges not as surrealist muse but as a vital figure in the flowering of Spain's cultural vanguard. Unprecedented interviews with Mallo's family provide fresh insights into this extraordinary artist.
